The Rebel Democratic Delegates

The New York Sun furnishes the following sketches of some of the notabilities in the late Democratic National Convention:

WADE HAMPTON

Prominent in the list of delegates from South Carolina is Gen Wade Hampton the noted leader of the Hampton Legion, a brigade of rebel cavalry organized exclusively in the Palmetto State. Gen. Hampton's beautiful residence at Columbia was destroyed by the Union army in 1861 and he was otherwise much damaged by the war which he and his compatriots labored so faithfully to bring about and to render glorious to the cause of slavery and treason. He was the first [illegible] to acknowledge the right of a freedman to speak in public on the stage, and did, actually in 1867, follow an eloquent address in [illegible] a dusky [illegible] formerly a chattel of [illegible], recently transformed into a human being by the emancipation act, who spoke from the same platform and to same mixed audience of blacks and whites. Gen Hampton is a gentleman of culture, is much loved by those who are intimately acquainted with him and held in the highest respect by the people of his district and State. He was thoroughly rebellious during the war but is now reconstructed, having taken the oath and received his pardon for all past offenses against the Government. He will be very active in the Convention, but not being a well drilled politician can hardly hope to influence many of the expert [illegible] veterans, except in case he shall happen to be on the strong side, when he will serve as a light weight. From the same State comes ex Governor B F Perry, a Democrat of the strictest sect, and ex Senator James Chesnut, who was one of the original secessionists and was often honored by his constituents. He resigned his seat in Congress on the 10th of November 1860, on the same day on which the South Carolina Legislature authorized the banks to suspend specie payment and appointed the 21st of November as the day of humiliation and prayer. At this time the State flag was waving from all public places and the stars and stripes were nowhere to be seen.

A P ALDRICH

A P Aldrich is also a delegate from the hot bed of secession. He it was who, while a member of the South Carolina Legislature in 1860, offered a resolution to expel all free colored men from the State, and who first suggested the holding of a convention of the people to decide upon secession from the Union. General M L Bonham, of the Confederate army, now disbanded, a military man of but little note outside of the district in which his constituents reside and who represented them once or twice in the State and National Legislatures, is another delegate. He, with Judge Perry, Chesnut, and four others, were appointed by the April Convention. Wade Hampton, Judge J B Campbell, R B Rhett, General Gary, and seven others, were sent here by the June Convention. Mr Rhett, from the Barnwell District, has been prominent for many years as a politician. All who bear his name are disunionists, and scarcely one can be found beyond the limits of South Carolina. Gen Gary, Wade Hampton, R B Rhett, and Aldrich, were members of the State Legislature when the ordinance of secession was passed, as was also G D Trenholm, afterwards rebel Secretary of the Treasury.

C C LANGDON

Two ex Governors of Alabama will represent the Democracy of that State in the convention—Lewis Parsons and John A Winston—neither of them very prominent in their own Commonwealth. Another delegate is C C Langdon, for a number of years editor and proprietor of the Mobile Advertiser, a moderately influential journal, which, in 1844, advocated the claims of Clay and Frelinghuysen with much ability. Mr Langdon still retains much of his pristine vigor and with John Forsyth and other Alabama journalists, seems to have become partially reconciled to the demise of the late Confederacy, for whose success he labored hard. Had the "bogus" Government founded upon treason and wrong been favored by Providence with a fixed place among the powers of the earth, C C Langdon would either have been made Censor of the Press by Emperor Davis or appointed Minister Plenipotentiary to Washington, where, with an eye single to the interests of his master, he could yet have kept a steady look out for his own.

PRICE—SEYMOUR—TILDEN

Missouri sends Gen Thomas L Price, one of the best officers in the Western Department of the rebel army. From New York comes an array of Democratic talent most bewildering to contemplate. First, there is Horatio Seymour, who fought valiantly for secession and treason with his tongue while those whom he helped to lead into rebellion were risking their lives in battle. Then there is Samuel J Tilden, who wrote the famous New York secession letter in October 1860, which he has been requested to read to the Convention in lieu of delivering a speech. This it will be remembered was followed by a similar document from Charles O'Conor, to which the Herald then, as also two or three times afterward, the New York organ of the disloyalists, alluded in the highest terms of praise.

GEN FORREST

Tennessee sends Gen N B Forrest of rebel fame, immortalized by his heroism at Fort Pillow, where unarmed men were butchered in cold blood because their skins were dark and they had received no patent from President Davis for the use of improved firearms against the chivalry. With him comes Edmund Cooper, the President's Private Secretary.

AN ARRIVAL

Last night at 8 o'clock a delegation of perhaps fifty, each man wearing a linen coat and carrying a carpet bag, marched down Park row to the music of a brass band. One of the number who stopped to refresh at a groggery displayed as his chief garment a rebel officer's dress coat with Confederate buttons on top of it. He was a delegate.

GENERAL GRANT AND SPEECH MAKING. General Grant does not make speeches and some consider oratory indispensable to statesmanship. But they demand entirely different qualities. One requires the power to persuade, the other the power to rule. The builder of sentences is often far other than the builder of States. A man may for years attack and defend various measures with vast learning and dexterity; he will overflow with language in showing how not to do it, but is dumb when compelled to achieve an immediate wise and possible result.

Men of executive power in all countries have often been preferred by the people to brilliant writers and speakers. Washington, Jackson, Taylor and Harrison were neither of them orators, but their contemporaries and rivals were among the most eloquent men of whom America can boast. "It is the nature of party in England," says Lord John Russell, "to ask the assistance of men of genius, but to follow the guidance of men of character." "Caress literary men and philosophers," said Napoleon, "but do not take them into your counsels."

But General Grant's eloquence: the brave words of other men he puts into deeds; what orators splendidly say he silently does. "Speech is silver," says the proverb, "but silence is golden." Most public men have been injured by the fatal faculty of fluency than by voiceless action. The highway of political life is marked by the graves of eminent men whose epitaph might be written "Died of a speech" or "Killed by writing a letter."—Phillips' Life of Grant.

HOW MUCH IT COSTS. The adoption of the repudiation platform by the Democratic Convention yesterday was immediately followed by a fall in Government bonds of about one per cent. Every holder of the national debt at once had his property reduced in value, losing in fact two months interest on his money by this quiet rash vote of three hundred irresponsible politicians. The total immediate loss in value was nearly twenty millions of dollars. If the mere threat of a disunited and powerless faction costs the country so much, how much would the triumph of such a party cost?

Nor is there any compensating advantage to any person whatever; the loss of national credit benefits no one, but is pure loss to the bondholder, the nation and the world.—New York Post.

The Funding Act

The following is the funding act recently passed by Congress:

Be it enacted, &c., That the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized to issue coupon or registered bonds of the United States in such form and in such denominations as he may prescribe, redeemable in coin at the pleasure of the United States after twenty, thirty and forty years respectively, and bearing the following rates of yearly interest, payable semi annually in coin, that is to say, the issue of bonds falling due in twenty years shall bear interest of five per cent; the bonds falling due in thirty years shall bear interest at one per cent, which said bonds shall be exempt from taxation in any form under any State municipal or local authority, and the same and the interest thereon and the income therefrom shall be exempt from the payment of all taxes or duties to the United States other than such income tax as may be assessed upon other incomes, and the said bonds and the proceeds thereof shall be exclusively used for the redemption or payment at the option of the holder or purchaser of, or exchange for an equal amount of the present interest bearing debt of the United States other than the existing 5 per cent bonds and the 3 per cent certificates, and may be issued to an amount in the aggregate sufficient to cover the principal of all outstanding or existing obligations as limited herein and no more, but not to exceed $700,000,000 of the issue shall be redeemable in twenty years.

And be it further enacted, That there is hereby appropriated out of the duties received from imported goods, one hundred and thirty five millions of dollars annually, which sum during each fiscal year shall be applied to the payment of the interest and to the reduction of the principal of the public debt in such a manner as may be determined by the Secretary of the Treasury or as Congress may hereafter direct, and such reduction shall be in lieu of the sinking fund contemplated by the fifth section of the act entitled "An act to authorize the issue of United States notes and for the redemption or funding thereof and for the floating debt of the United States," approved February 25, 1862.

And be it further enacted, That any contract hereafter made payable specifically in coin shall be legal and valid, and may be enforced according to its terms, anything in the several acts relating to United States notes to the contrary notwithstanding. Provided, that this section shall not apply to contracts for the borrowing of currency, the renewal or extension of any indebtedness under a contract already entered into unless such contract originally required payment in coin.

Be it further enacted, That from and after the passage of this act no percentage, deduction, commission or compensation of any amount or kind shall be allowed to any person for the sale or negotiation of any bonds or securities of the United States disposed of at the Treasury Department or elsewhere, on account of the United States, and all acts or parts of acts authorizing or permitting, by construction or otherwise, the Secretary of the Treasury to appoint any agent other than some proper officer of this Department to make such sale or negotiation of bonds and securities, are hereby repealed.

Opening of the Campaign in Maine

[From Cor Sacramento Union]

The Pine Tree State leads off in September in the great political game, and the supporters of Grant are getting ready for the work in a manner that argues well for their success. They held their State Convention in Portland last week, and had the largest and most enthusiastic gathering since that of 1856, when Hannibal Hamlin ran against Sam Wells, the last Democratic Governor the State has had, beating him by over 20,000 majority, if I remember right. The Convention was held on Wednesday, on which day also a Soldiers and Sailors Convention met, and with these two bodies in session Portland had a strong preponderance of Republican sentiment. George F Shepley was President of the State Convention and Luther Bradford, a private soldier who lost an arm at Petersburg, President of the Soldiers and Sailors. The first named body renominated Governor Chamberlain by acclamation and chose George M Beal of Norway and S P Strickland of Bangor, for Electors at large. The resolutions were brief for a wonder and pointed. They approve the platform adopted at Chicago, warmly compliment Grant and Colfax, and denounce the proposition to tax Government bonds as a scheme by whose operation the loyal people of the North would be taxed for the benefit of rebels. The Convention was addressed by General Sickles, John A Bingham of Ohio, General Pleasanton, James G Blaine, member of Congress from Maine. General Sickles said, in closing his speech, that the people had not had since Washington a candidate for the Presidency more eminently deserving the confidence of the people or better fitted to discharge its high duties and trusts than the illustrious Captain nominated at Chicago. Bingham's peroration was fine. "Lift this man to the Presidency who gave you such counsel, who led your armies through the wilderness to victory, who saved your Constitution by the sword. Lift him by the might and majesty of your ballots to the power of the State as Commander in Chief of your armies and Chief Magistrate of the Republic and rely upon it so long as he holds that position he will obey the laws and will maintain the people's laws." It is not extravagant to count upon Maine for 20,000 majority for Grant. The whole State is aroused to a pitch of patriotic excitement that a community rarely reaches. The recent Democratic nominations have increased the ardor of Grant's supporters and discouraged the Democracy. In fact the Maine Democrats have no capital whatever. The majority of them were [illegible] committed to the prosecution of the war; they wanted Hancock, and how can they advocate with any spirit the election of a man who was notoriously opposed to the war and obstructed the movements of the Government? A small minority led by Marcellus Emery and fellows of his kind wanted Pendleton, and having failed to get him they are called upon to vote for a man who is supposed to represent the sentiment which accomplished the political slaughter of their favorite.

AUGUST BELMONT. This bloated bond holder is again Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and this in the very face of the bitterest denunciations of the Pendletonians. On the 7th of July the Cincinnati Enquirer (Pendleton) supposing of course that Belmont would be ignobly dismissed from position gave him the following parting kick:

"Mr Belmont, as Chairman unfortunately of the Democratic National Committee, called the New York Convention to order and nominated its temporary Chairman. This perhaps was his right, but he certainly was not called upon to afflict the convention with a set political speech, which he appears to have done. The country has no desire—no disposition—to hear Mr Belmont, and the less he has to say in the councils of the party the better for the organization. His name is very unpopular in the great West, and his position as the agent of foreign capitalists has long been used by the Radical press to Democratic disadvantage. We hope for this campaign—indeed for all campaigns—we have heard the last of the Messrs Rothschilds' agent."

A young lady—a sensible girl—gives the following catalogue of the different kinds of love: "The longest, a brother's love; the strongest, a woman's love; the dearest, a man's love; and the sweetest, longest, strongest, dearest love, a love of a bonnet."

Speech of Gov Morton in the United States Senate.

The following is the speech of Senator Morton, delivered in the Senate, July 9th. Republicans very generally comment upon it as furnishing the key note of the campaign:

Mr Morton. I do not rise so much to discuss the various propositions relative to counting the electoral vote as to say that I am for that offered by the Senator from Vermont, believing that it is more specific than the other two, but, perhaps any one of them would answer the purpose. I desire however to say a word in regard to the importance of this measure. We have been noticing the proceedings of a convention held in the city of New York, which has but just adjourned. I have read the resolutions adopted by the convention, the platform of principles it has laid down, and upon which its candidates have been placed, and I wish to call the attention of the Senate to the issue that is presented to the country by this platform, and by the character of these candidates. General Grant in his letter of acceptance said "Let us have peace." But the Democratic party, by their convention in New York, have said, "Let us have war; there shall be no peace." They have declared in substance in direct terms that the reconstruction of these States under the several acts of Congress shall not be permitted to stand, but shall be overturned by military force if they get the power. They have announced that there shall be no peace in this country, that there shall be no settlement of our troubles, except upon the condition of the triumph of those who have been in rebellion. This platform and these nominations are a declaration of a renewal of the rebellion. Let me call your attention to a part of the eighth resolution in regard to this very question. In speaking of the reconstruction of the States, they go on to say that the power to regulate suffrage exists with each State, making no difference between loyal States that have been at peace and States that have been in rebellion, putting them all upon the same footing, and that any exercise by Congress on any pretext whatever [illegible] upon the pretext of the rebellion, of power to deprive any State of this right, or interfere with its exercise is a flagrant usurpation of power which can find no warrant in the Constitution, and if sanctioned by the people will subvert our form of government. They declare that the interference of Congress with suffrage in the States that have been in rebellion, though that interference may be absolutely necessary as we have found it, to the reconstruction of the States, is unconstitutional, and that no justification can be found for it, and that it will subvert our form of government. This convention has called upon the rebels of the South to regard these governments organized by authority of the acts of Congress by the people of those States as usurpations, unconstitutional and void, and has thereby invited them again to insurrection and rebellion. That is what that resolution means. There is where the Democratic party has placed itself and its candidates—that there shall be no acquiescence in the action of Congress, but that continued resistance is and shall be their policy. They have replied to General Grant by saying, "There shall be no peace, but the war shall be renewed." There can be no other policy for that party if it acquiesces. If it does not accept these reconstruction acts there can be no policy but that of resistance and a renewal of the war. They declare these Reconstruction acts to be unconstitutional and void. Being void, nobody is bound to regard them. They have no authority over any one to coerce or punish, and may be resisted by any one with impunity. That is not the language of this resolution, but it is the substance and meaning of it, and in consequence of this it received the endorsement and the approbation of the hundreds of rebels who were in that convention from the South—men who organized the rebel government and organized and led the rebel armies in battle.

This, then, is the issue. A continuance of the war, a renewal of the rebellion, [illegible] it is [illegible] that or it is submission, acquiescence to what has been done. But, Mr President, we are not left to grope for the meaning of this convention. We are not left even to seek for it by inference. We have the letter of General Francis P. Blair, written, I believe, less than one week ago, and that letter has been endorsed by that convention this afternoon, by his nomination as their candidate for the Vice Presidency. It is as much a part of their platform as if it was incorporated in it, for the ink was hardly dry before it was endorsed by his nomination. I repeat, sir, this letter is a part of the Democratic platform. General Blair, whatever you may say of him, is a bold, outspoken man, and he spoke the sentiments of that convention. He says "Upon these sentiments I want to stand before the convention." And upon these sentiments he was nominated. Therefore, I say that the language of the Democratic Convention of New York to the whole country, is war, resistance by force of arms to Congressional legislation, the overthrow by force of arms of the governments that have been created in the rebel States under the laws enacted by Congress, the continuance of this struggle in a somewhat different form, but still the same struggle, contending for the same principles. It is now announced formally, not at Montgomery, not at Richmond, but at New York. The country need not be at a loss to understand the character of the contest upon which we are entering. It is not one of peace and acquiescence, of consolidation, whereby the ravages of war may be repaired, but it is a new declaration of war and a new announcement of the rebellion under somewhat different circumstances, but under circumstances formidable, dangerous and solemn.

Let the country look the struggle in the face. General Blair has said truly that all that has been said about greenbacks and bonds and the question of finance is mere nonsense. The great issue is the question overturning the new State governments by force, the restoration of the power of the rebels, or as they call it, the white man's government in those States, and all the rest is leather and prunella. We owe a debt of gratitude to General Blair for his frankness. There need be no deception practiced now, and there can be none. There can be no other issue presented substantially to us but that of the future prosperity of the country. If Seymour shall be elected upon that platform he stands pledged to use the army of the United States for the purpose of overturning the governments that have been established in the South by the whole people, and by that army to place the power back again into the hands of the rebels. They were with them in that convention; they have given to him their counsel; they have endorsed Mr Seymour and the convention, and all have endorsed General Francis P Blair. I know we shall be told in the Northwest that they intend to have the same currency for the bondholder and the laborer. They will proclaim the taxation of the bonds as the great issue upon which they expect to get votes, but that will also be a deception. The great issue underlying the whole contest (and we have the solemn declaration of their candidate for Vice President to that effect) will be the renewal of the war to overturn the State Governments that have just been established under the acts of Congress. General Blair has released the Republican party of a great deal of labor; has unmasked the enemy with whom we have to deal, and he has placed before the country the very issue—peace or war.

A Delusive Hope

The Democratic newspapers affect to think that the soldiers who fought under Grant will many of them vote for Blair because he was a General. To be a general is no compliment. A general, an honest general and a consistent patriotic general is something to recommend any man to the favor of the American soldiery. The fact that a general turns through personal spite or disappointed ambition, against the cause for which he fought is not one to demand either admiration or respect. Benedict Arnold was a general, a competent and brave general, but he was an ambitious and unscrupulous general and finally became a traitor. It was never shown that his treason was ever forgotten by his former comrades or that they ever looked more leniently upon his crime because he had been a general. So with General Blair and the Union soldiers. The latter may and doubtless will concede to Gen Blair all that his record as a general may call for, of admiration and respect, but they cannot be blinded to the fact that he has since turned his back upon them and that his present associates are the men whose crimes against the government called the Union armies into the field and led to all the vast sacrifices of the rebellion. The soldiers will constantly remember that Seymour is the first man on the ticket and that he was never the friend of either the generals or the soldiers of the Union army. The soldier who has any atom of self respect or of patriotism cannot vote for Blair any more than could he take into his heart and cherish the memory of Benedict Arnold. The hopes of the Democracy in this respect will prove delusive.

We have received from Washington a copy of a pamphlet published by B J Pengra and H Cummins, addressed to the Senate and House of Representatives, and containing information concerning Oregon, Washington Territory and Nevada, compiled for the purpose of showing the importance of granting National aid to the Oregon branch of the Pacific Railroad. The publication did not have the effect of getting the bill then pending through Congress, but its influence may be felt in the next session, or if not, it will undoubtedly do some good for Oregon by placing before the people of the Eastern States considerable general information concerning our resources and capabilities for sustaining a dense population. This is a private enterprise but the pamphlet will no doubt have some circulation. It is to be regretted that steps have not, long since, been taken to circulate generally over the Eastern States publications containing full and accurate information of our country. It should be done at the public expense and the sooner done the better. We have referred to this matter for the purpose of suggesting to the Legislature the importance of doing something immediately in this direction. It may cost a few thousand dollars, but within the succeeding five or six years, the results in population and development of wealth, by immigration, will more than ten times repay the expenditure. Let us have an Emigrant Commissioner and let us make known to the thousands who are turning wistful eyes in search of independent homes, what Oregon can do for them.

A Democratic newspaper said the other day, that the Radicals "have forgotten entirely that they have a party, a platform or a ticket." The Radicals and the Democrats differ in this that the Radicals have not forgotten that they have a country, and they have not forgotten that they have given a half million of lives to rescue it from a desperate revolution inaugurated by the Democratic party. The Radicals will not forget that the platform and candidates of the Democracy in the present campaign are pledged to "trample in the dust," the laws under which several of the late rebel States have resumed their places in the Union. The Radicals will not forget that the Democratic candidate for Vice President announces that the only issue which gives dignity to the present struggle is the overturning of the State governments of the reconstructed States, and the setting up of new ones under the control of the rebel element. The Radicals will not forget that this is a pledge in favor of a second revolution. Do not be alarmed, neighbor, about what the Radicals have forgotten or what they are likely to forget. We remember enough of the Democratic record to make us blush that Americans could be so false to their heritage, as have been the Democracy during the last few years.

THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY IN A NEW ROLE.—The platform adopted by the New York convention represents the Democracy as "reposing its trust in the intelligence etc of the people." This is a new position on the boards for the Democracy and it is extremely doubtful whether it can succeed in "reposing" thus to the satisfaction of either the managers or the public. The forte of the Democratic actors—stars, magnates, tragedians, high comedians, low comedians, etc down to supes—has always been to repose their trust in the ignorance and meanest prejudices of the people. The late attempt—all in the play—to "repose" the party on intelligence is farcical enough to elicit regular horse laughs from pit to gallery.

The Albany Democrat, of last Saturday introduces Blair's revolutionary letter to Col Brodhead, with the following prefatory remarks:

"The following letter from Blair to the Democratic Convention, will receive the endorsement of every genuine Democratic voter in the Union."

The Democratic press of Oregon will no doubt, without exception follow in the wake of the Herald and fully endorse Blair's proposition to again revolutionize the South and to "trample into dust" the laws of the country.

Gen Revolutionist Blair says the radical party has made copperheadism respectable. Gen. Blair is engaged in an effort to make revolutions fashionable. He should go to Mexico where the people have a general somersault of public affairs every other morning.

MUTUAL.—The Atlanta (Ga) Era says "We have an abiding faith in the stupidity of the Democracy." [illegible] the Democracy have an abiding [illegible] of the people.

MAIL MATTERS.—Postal Agent Brooks has recommended that the present semi-weekly mail service between Portland and Astoria be increased to tri-weekly service. The growth of Astoria and intermediate points along the Columbia valley, as well as the convenience of the military authorities at the mouth of the river render such increase of mail facilities absolutely necessary.

Mr Brooks has also recommended that the route from Vancouver to Lekum in Washington Territory be extended to Monticello. This route is at present comparatively insignificant but at Monticello is proposed it will be one of great importance whenever the navigation of the Columbia may be closed as it was last winter by ice. Heretofore when the river has been closed all that part of Washington Territory west of the Cascade range has been cut from communication not only with Oregon but with the Eastern States. The extension of the route will obviate that difficulty and insure connection between Puget Sound and the rest of the world, under all circumstances.

Both of the above measures are of importance, not only to this city but to the regions of country connected with us by mail. Judging by the uniform success Mr. Brooks has heretofore met in his efforts to improve the mail facilities of the country we have not the least doubt but that his recommendations in this behalf will be promptly and favorably acted upon.

Mr Brooks gives us information of the following recent appointments of postmasters changes in postoffices etc. in Oregon Washington and Idaho.

Oregon—John W Weaver appointed postmaster at Myrtle Creek Douglas county, Jas C Franklin, at Meadowville Umatilla county, Hardin Holman at Buena Vista Polk county, Samuel D Cowles at Cove (formerly Forest Cove) Union county, Wallace Baldwin at Corvallis. New postoffices have been established as follows at Rattlesnake Lane county J D Matlock, postmaster at Springfield Lane county J D Haxey, postmaster, at Bridge Creek Wasco county, Alfred Sutton postmaster at Deschutes Wasco county L L Hemmingway, postmaster.

Washington Territory—George W Biles has been appointed postmaster at Tumwater. Bailey Gatzert, at Wallula. The postoffice at Tukannon, Walla Walla county has been reestablished with O P Platter as postmaster.

Idaho—Wm H Blackstone has been appointed postmaster at Pend Oreille Nez Perces county, and Perry Mundy, at Middleton, Ada county.

The Victoria Colonist of the 28th says one section (about two miles of the new line) of the cable has been laid between Sidney and James Islands under considerable difficulties, arising from the tide rips and strong currents of the San Juan archipelago.

The small pox is prevailing at Petaluma, California, and in other places near San Francisco. The probabilities are strong that the disease will spread quite generally up and down the coast.

Political Items

The New York Sun thinks that the fatal point of the Democratic ticket is the nomination of General F P Blair, Jr, for the Vice-Presidency.

The Springfield Republican says the Democratic platform is "a union of Pendleton on repudiation, Frank Blair on reconstruction and Brick Pomeroy generally."

It is stated that Judge Hoar and Representative Dawes, of Massachusetts, both declare that they will not accept the Gubernatorial nomination if tendered them.

A Connecticut Democratic paper states that General F P Blair is a graduate of Yale College, and the New Haven Journal explains: Gen Blair graduated at Yale College quite prematurely. It took him less than a year to "go through" College. He went into the front door and out at the back.

Crounse, of the New York Times telegraphs from Washington that much dissatisfaction is manifested in that city among prominent Democrats in Congress, over the nomination of Seymour and Blair. They see that Seymour's Copperhead record and Blair's rebel letter cannot be defended before the people.

The Hartford Post alluding to an article in the New York World on the question "Does General Grant drink?" asks that paper to turn its attention to Blair, and furnishes the following copy of his bill at the Allyn House in that city for a two days' stay during last year's campaign: "Two days' board, $10; lemons and whisky, $65—total $75."

A Washington special to the Louisville Journal, recognized as an Andrew Johnson organ, says that "notwithstanding the cheerful tone of the President to Secretary Welles, who conveyed to the White House the news of the nomination of Seymour, I learn that he has expressed the deepest mortification to some of his more confidential friends. He says he was sacrificed at New York by those on whom he had every reason to rely. To one he declared that he had had entire confidence in the justice of the convention but that now he should appeal to the justice of posterity."

The Indianapolis correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial says: "On Saturday night Beauregard, Basil Duke, Jesse D Bright and a number of Morgan men passed through the city, returning from the New York Convention. Not one in the party was in the least enthusiastic over the nominations. Bright, in particular was disgusted and he tried in vain to find words to express his disgust. Beauregard had little to say to the several snobs who were anxious to scrape an acquaintance with him. Morgan's men had enough to do to talk over the incidents of a visit they paid our city before this cruel war was over."

The Cincinnati Gazette of the 14th says: "Our friends of the Pendleton Escort are arriving home in squads daily. Their return seems to depend upon the promptness of their friends in answering their requests for money. New York cleaned them out every way. It killed in the first place dead as a door nail, their favorite candidate. It bamboozled them in the second place into nominating Seymour. In the third place, it fleeced them out of all their money. One delegate paid four dollars per night for the privilege of sleeping in one of their hotels and made others pay six and seven dollars for board and lodging. Never was the old proverb better exemplified 'Fools and their money are soon parted.'"

EXPRESS AND MAIL ROBBERY.—A dispatch to the Evening Commercial from the Dalles, gives the following:

On Sunday morning the 2d inst at about three or four miles this side of Pelican station in the Blue mountains the Boise stage was attacked by four masked road agents who after stopping the stage and ordering the passengers to alight proceeded to rifle the mail bags of registered letters and abstract from the treasure box of Wells Fargo & Co about six or seven thousand dollars in gold bars and dust together with all the letters and packages it contained. The robbers then turned their attention entirely to the passengers, Major Jas R Motts, Paymaster U S A and his clerk Mr James A Waters the former of whom was relieved of all his private funds but missing happily a large sum of government money concealed on his person. Mr Waters fared better losing only a small portion of what he had. All the baggage except Mr Waters was cut open and their contents well examined. After taking the lead horses belonging to the stage the robbers quietly decamped, seemingly well satisfied with their booty.

Greeley graphically characterizes Seymour as a cool, wily ingenious master of the art of squirting oratoric vitriol upon those who do not wear his uniform.

Governor Humphreys and family were ejected from the executive mansion July 14th by the military.

These 101,344 kegs of lager beer [illegible] 120 glasses [illegible] 24,261,280 glasses of beer which Milwaukee [illegible] drink.

How [illegible] A glass [illegible] is supposed to contain a pint beer measure. It [illegible] near. There are 280 cubic inches in a beer gallon [illegible] sake of convenience.

This sea then of which we were speaking would contain 1,698,244,800 cubic inches or over 980,000 cubic feet. A pretty good sized sea, a lake that would float a good sized [illegible] little navy until the sailors drank the lake up from under them.

The retail price of this beer to go back to figures again at five cents a glass would amount to the snug little sum of $2,226,064. The [illegible] this divide the sum of $1,013,013 a profit. As it does not require a large outlay to [illegible] the business the profit is a very good one indeed.

There is of course a great deal of this beer shipped away from the city but at the same time there is no doubt nearly as much brought in as there is sent away and that brought in is not included in our figures.

Suppose this beer was divided equally among the inhabitants of Milwaukee men women and children. There are 85,000 of these people. This would give to each of them as his or her share 524 glasses of beer which would cost him or her the sum of $26.20. It must not be supposed that each of these people men women and children drank his or her $26.20 worth or 524 glasses. In fact a great many thousands of the 85,000 did not assist in the disposition of a drop of this beer. What a fill there was for those who do drink and to speak plainly what guzzlers our beer-drinkers must be. Literally they must swim in their beverage or the beverage swim in them. It is a consolation to know that a great deal of this beer was taken in by strangers who come here to visit us, and whose first cry on arriving is for our favorite beverage else so much beer would be the death of us.

There is in the city 447 places where beer and liquors are sold. Probably 400 of these sell beer as a specialty, while all the balance sell ale, the statistics of which so far as the ale is manufactured in this district are included in the above article. Among these 447 dealers the trade which we have shown amounts to $2,226,064—is divided. It does not constitute their whole trade, of course for they have in addition the sales of wines and liquors which although not aggregating so much as the beer and ale trade perhaps, foot up a handsome figure.—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

THE EXCITED MOB THREATEN TO BURN A WOMAN FOR A WITCH

[From the La Porte (Ind) Union]

Our readers will be startled to learn that the famous old woman of Endor has a daughter in La Porte a spiritual if not a lineal daughter. Very early on Monday morning the grounds about a certain dwelling on I street in Andrews Addition, presented a scene which made one think of Salem, Mass as Salem was in the year of grace 1692. A Mrs D who domiciles there, is reputed to be a witch a veritable sorceress who though not positively known to have ridden through a key hole on a broomstick, is said to have tried her damnable charms with fatal success on one Mrs. R, who tabernacles on a farm a little south of the city. Mrs R is afflicted with convulsions and believes Mrs D to be the cause of her epilepsy. She has been treated by several medicine men but without any benefit—except to the doctors. Recently she has been availing herself of the professional services of a man from New Buffalo, who, to the double business of healer and preacher adds that of exorcist. This man insists that not long ago Mrs. D confessed to him that she was the authoress of Mrs R's sufferings, having by her black and diabolical arts bewitched her. He was here visiting his patient at the time mentioned and about gray dawn or a little after on Monday went in company with several others as we understand it to the house of Mrs D for what precise purpose we are not informed. In the course of the confab Mrs D it appears plumply denied that she had ever made any confession to the preacher doctor and denounced him as a liar. Exactly what followed we do not learn but in the meantime an excited crowd of probably two hundred gathered about the house the victim of the sorcery sitting in a buggy in the midst thereof. The New Buffalo gent who was the ringleader of the actors proclaimed from the mob that if Mrs D would come out and show herself he would unwitch her in a trice and evermore. But Mrs D not liking the outlook and doubtless thinking that the doctor had already more devils in and about him than he could properly manage declined the kind invitation. This did not have the effect to moderate the rising fury of the crowd and there were threats of burning the incorrigible woman with fire. But just at this nick of time the City marshal and Officer Dan Brown made their appearance and succeeded in dispersing the mob without much difficulty and before the commission of any violence. An effort was made to arrest the New Buffalo mountebank but he had prudently decamped.

A REBEL TALE IN NASHVILLE AND ITS TREASONABLE COUNSELS—REVOLUTION THREATENED.—A special dispatch from Nashville Tenn July 15 to the Chicago Tribune says:

The Nashville Gazette of this morning contains a leader which counsels for the armed resistance to the further enforcement of the laws of the State government. It warns the white Republicans that while the negroes will be spared as far as practicable vengeance without mercy will be heaped upon them. There is little doubt that the Ku Klux Democracy have resolved on the forcible overthrow of the State government.

The meeting of the special session of the Legislature on the 27th inst to make provision for the defence of the loyal citizens of the State and for the enforcement of the laws is regarded with intense anxiety and apprehension. The citizens of many portions of the state are completely at the mercy of the well organized and thoroughly armed Ku Klux force.

GRANT ON THE PACIFIC COAST.—The Herald says: The Democratic newspapers have sufficiently amused their selves and their readers by circulating a great deal of nonsense about Grant's career in California and his reputed pranks at every obscure burg in the State. To set at rest all disputes as to where General Grant was stationed when he was in the Pacific West, we make the following extract from his military record as given in Cullum's Register of Graduates of the Military Academy, which is conclusive and thereby: Served at Benicia, Cal, 1852 and on frontier duty at Columbia Barracks, Oregon, 1852–3 and Fort Humboldt Cal 1854 resigned July 31st, 1854.

Says an exchange: We have received a communication which says: "The nigger ant fitt to Voat he is to ignerant tue be trust with the frankshise."

Johnson responded to a toast given him, saying: "I go to England as a Minister of peace. My instructions look to peace. If I am able to carry them out in the spirit in which they are given, peace will result." Johnson said all good men of both nations earnestly desired peace. He also complimented the representation of the Prussian Government as always a consistent friend of the United States, and endeared to all who knew him. Baron Gerolt expressed his gratitude for the kind recognition by Johnson. He reiterated his firm devotion and friendship to the Government and people of America in behalf of himself and his Government. OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH

SAN FRANCISCO, August 3.—An immense number of persons assembled at Bay View Park yesterday to witness W H Mowery ride his match against time. He was to ride 300 miles in fifteen consecutive hours for a stake of $1,500. He accomplished the feat in fourteen hours and nine minutes. A Delusive Hope

The Democratic newspapers affect to think that the soldiers who fought under Grant will many of them vote for Blair because he was a General. To be a general, a competent general, an honest general and a consistent patriotic general is something to recommend any man to the favor of the American soldiery. The fact that a general turns through personal spite or disappointed ambition, against the cause for which he fought is not one to demand either admiration or respect. Benedict Arnold was a general, a competent and brave general, but he was an ambitious and unscrupulous general and finally became a traitor. It was never shown that his treason was ever forgotten by his former comrades or that they ever looked more leniently upon his crime because he had been a general. So with General Blair and the Union soldiers. The latter may and doubtless will concede to Gen. Blair all that his record as a general may call for of admiration and respect, but they cannot be blinded to the fact that he has since turned his back upon them and that his present associates are the men whose crimes against the government called the Union armies into the field and led to all the vast sacrifices of the rebellion. The soldiers will constantly remember that Seymour is the first man on the ticket and that he was never the friend of either the generals or the soldiers of the Union army. The soldier who has any atom of self respect or of patriotism cannot vote for Blair any more than could he take into his heart and cherish the memory of Benedict Arnold. The hopes of the Democracy, in this respect, will prove delusive.

We have received from Washington a copy of a pamphlet published by B. J. Pengra and H. Cummins, addressed to the Senate and House of Representatives, and containing information concerning Oregon, Washington Territory and Nevada, compiled for the purpose of showing the importance of granting National aid to the Oregon branch of the Pacific Railroad. The publication did not have the effect of getting the bill then pending, through Congress, but its influence may be felt in the next session, or if not, it will undoubtedly do some good for Oregon by placing before the people of the Eastern States considerable general information concerning our resources and capabilities for sustaining a dense population. This is a private enterprise but the pamphlet will no doubt have some circulation. It is to be regretted that steps have not, long since, been taken to circulate generally over the Eastern States publications containing full and accurate information of our country. It should be done at the public expense and the sooner done the better. We have referred to this matter for the purpose of suggesting to the Legislature the importance of doing something immediately in this direction. It may cost a few thousand dollars; but within the succeeding five or six years, the results in population and development of wealth, by immigration, will more than ten times repay the expenditure. Let us have an Emigrant Commissioner and let us make known to the thousands who are turning wistful eyes in search of independent homes, what Oregon can do for them.

A Democratic newspaper said the other day, that the Radicals "have forgotten entirely that they have a party, a platform or a ticket." The Radicals and the Democrats differ in this: that the Radicals have not forgotten that they have a country, and they have not forgotten that they have given a half million of lives to rescue it from a desperate revolution inaugurated by the Democratic party. The Radicals will not forget that the platform and candidates of the Democracy in the present campaign are pledged to "trample in the dust," the laws under which several of the late rebel States have resumed their places in the Union. The Radicals will not forget that the Democratic candidate for Vice President announces that the only issue which gives dignity to the present struggle is the overturning of the State governments of the reconstructed States, and the setting up of new ones under the control of the rebel element. The Radicals will not forget that this is a pledge in favor of a second revolution. Do not be alarmed, neighbor, about what the Radicals have forgotten or what they are likely to forget. We remember enough of the Democratic record to make us blush that Americans could be so false to their heritage, as have been the Democracy during the last few years.

The Democratic Party in a New Role.—The platform adopted by the New York convention represents the Democracy as "reposing its trust in the intelligence, etc., of the people." This is a new position on the boards for the Democracy and it is extremely doubtful whether it can succeed in "reposing" thus to the satisfaction of either the managers or the public. The forte of the Democratic actors—stars, magnates, tragedians, high comedians, low comedians, etc., down to supes—has always been to repose their trust in the ignorance and meanest prejudices of the people. The late attempt—all in the play—to "repose" the party on intelligence is farcical enough to elicit regular horse laughs from pit to gallery.

The Albany Democrat, of last Saturday, introduces Blair's revolutionary letter to Col. Brodhead, with the following prefatory remarks:

"The following letter from Blair to the Democratic Convention, will receive the endorsement of every genuine Democratic voter in the Union."

The Democratic press of Oregon will no doubt, without exception, follow in the wake of the Herald and fully endorse Blair's proposition to again revolutionize the South and to "trample into dust" the laws of the country.

Gen. Revolutionist Blair says the radical party has made copperheadism respectable. Gen. Blair is engaged in an effort to make revolutions fashionable. He should go to Mexico where the people have a general somersault of public affairs every other morning.

Mutual.—The Atlanta (Ga.) Era says: "We have an abiding faith in the stupidity of the Democracy."

[illegible] the Democracy have an abiding [illegible] of the people.

Mail Matters.—Postal Agent Brooks has recommended that the present semi-weekly mail service between Portland and Astoria be increased to tri-weekly service. The growth of Astoria and intermediate points along the Columbia valley as well as the convenience of the military authorities at the mouth of the river render such increase of mail facilities almost indispensable.

Mr. Brooks has also recommended that the route from Vancouver to Fort Klickitat in Washington Territory be extended to Monticello. This route is at present comparatively useless, but if extended as proposed it will become of great importance whenever the navigation of the Columbia may be closed as it was last winter, by ice. Heretofore when the river has been closed all that part of Washington Territory west of the Cascade range has been cut from communication not only with Oregon but with the Eastern States. This extension of the route will obviate that difficulty and insure connection between Puget Sound and the rest of the world under all circumstances.

Both of the above measures are of importance, not only to this city but to the regions of country connected with us by mail. Judging by the uniform success Mr. Brooks has heretofore met in his efforts to improve the mail facilities of the country we have not the least doubt but that his recommendations in this behalf will be promptly and favorably acted upon.

Mr. Brooks gives us information of the following recent appointments of postmasters, changes in postoffices, etc., in Oregon, Washington and Idaho.

Oregon.—John W. Weaver appointed postmaster at Myrtle Creek, Douglas county; Jas. C. Franklin, at Meadowville, Umatilla county; Hardin Holman at Buena Vista, Polk county; Samuel D. Cowles, at Cove (formerly Forest Cove), Union county; Wallace Baldwin at Corvallis. New postoffices have been established as follows: at Rattlesnake, Lane county, J. D. Matlock, postmaster; at Springfield, Lane county, J. D. Hovey, postmaster; at Bridge Creek, Wasco county, Alfred Sutton postmaster; at Deschutes, Wasco county, L. L. Hemmingway, postmaster.

Washington Territory.—George W. Biles has been appointed postmaster at Tumwater; Bailey Gatzert, at Wallula. The postoffice at Tukannon, Walla Walla county, has been re-established with O. P. Platter as postmaster.

Idaho.—Wm. H. Blackstone has been appointed postmaster at Pend d'Oreille, Nez Perces county, and Perry Mundy at Middleton, Ada county.

The Victoria Colonist of the 28th says one section (about two miles of the new line) of the cable has been laid between Sidney and James Islands under considerable difficulties, arising from the tide rips and strong currents of the San Juan archipelago.

The small pox is prevailing at Petaluma, California, and in other places near San Francisco. The probabilities are strong that the disease will spread quite generally up and down the coast.

Political Items.

The New York Sun thinks that the fatal point of the Democratic ticket is the nomination of General F. P. Blair, Jr., for the Vice-Presidency.

The Springfield Republican says the Democratic platform is "a union of Pendleton on repudiation, Frank Blair on reconstruction and Brick Pomeroy generally."

It is stated that Judge Hoar and Representative Dawes, of Massachusetts, both declare that they will not accept the Gubernatorial nomination if tendered them.

A Connecticut Democratic paper states that General F. P. Blair is a graduate of Yale College, and the New Haven Journal explains: Gen. Blair graduated at Yale College quite prematurely. It took him less than a year to "go through" College. He went into the front door and out at the back.

Crounse, of the New York Times, telegraphs from Washington that much dissatisfaction is manifested in that city among prominent Democrats in Congress, over the nomination of Seymour and Blair. They see that Seymour's Copperhead record and Blair's rebel letter cannot be defended before the people.

The Hartford Post, alluding to an article in the New York World on the question, "Does General Grant drink?" asks that paper to turn its attention to Blair, and furnishes the following copy of his bill at the Allyn House in that city for a two days' stay during last year's campaign: "Two days board, $10; lemons and whisky, $65—total, $75."

A Washington special to the Louisville Journal, recognized as an Andrew Johnson organ, says that "notwithstanding the cheerful tone of the President to Secretary Welles, who conveyed to the White House the news of the nomination of Seymour, I learn that he has expressed the deepest mortification to some of his more confidential friends. He says he was sacrificed at New York by those on whom he had every reason to rely. To one he declared that he had had entire confidence in the justice of the convention, but that now he should appeal to the justice of posterity."

The Indianapolis correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial says: "On Saturday night Beauregard, Basil Duke, Jesse D. Bright and a number of Morgan men, passed through the city returning from the New York Convention. Not one in the party was in the least enthusiastic over the nominations. Bright, in particular, was disgusted, and he tried in vain to find words to express his disgust. Beauregard had little to say to the several snobs who were anxious to scrape an acquaintance with him. Morgan's men had enough to do to talk over the incidents of a visit they paid our city before this cruel war was over."

The Cincinnati Gazette of the 14th, says: "Our friends of the Pendleton Escort are arriving home in squads daily. Their return seems to depend upon the promptness of their friends in answering their requests for money. New York cleaned them out every way. It killed, in the first place dead as a door nail, their favorite candidate. It bamboozled them, in the second place into nominating Seymour. In the third place it fleeced them out of all their money. One delegate paid four dollars per night for the privilege of sleeping in one of their hotels, and made others pay six and seven dollars for board and lodging. Never was the old proverb better exemplified: 'Fools and their money are soon parted.'"

Express and Mail Robbery.—A dispatch to the Evening Commercial from the Dalles, gives the following:

On Sunday morning the 2d inst., at about three or four miles this side of Pelican station, on the Blue mountains, the Boise stage was attacked by four masked road agents, who after stopping the stage and ordering the passengers to alight proceeded to rifle the mail bags of registered letters and abstract from the treasure box of Wells, Fargo & Co. about six or seven thousand dollars in gold bars and dust together with all the letters and packages it contained. The robbers then directed their attention entirely to the passengers, Major Jas. R. Mears, Paymaster U. S. A., and his clerk Mr. James A. Waters, the former of whom was relieved of all his private funds; but missing, happily, a large sum of government money concealed on his person. Mr. Waters fared better losing only a small portion of what he had. All the baggage except Mr. Waters was cut open and their contents well examined. After taking the lead horses belonging to the stage the robbers quietly decamped, seemingly well satisfied with their booty.

Greeley graphically characterizes Seymour as a cool, wily, ingenious master of the art of squirting oratoric vitriol upon those who do not wear his uniform.

Governor Humphreys and family were ejected from the executive mansion July 13th by the military.

A City's Beer. Some Ciphering with Lager

Bier.

According to the report of the Collector [illegible] published in the [illegible] for the year [illegible] 1868, beer stamps to the value of [illegible] were sold. This sum represents 101,08[illegible] barrels [illegible] as the stamps are $1 per barrel. [illegible] what the government [illegible] in this district [illegible] $1,213 [illegible] 101,241 [illegible] kegs [illegible]. You will notice that some mornings, the [illegible] lager beer [illegible] days [illegible] of those 101,241 kegs [illegible] glasses. We know that if you speak to a lager beer man he will turn up his nose in a most sarcastic manner and tell you plainly that [illegible] just likes to see [illegible] fellows [illegible] a keg [illegible] matter pretty thoroughly in our day and generation and understand that with the froth which takes up about one third of the room in a glass and with the schultz which so many think the thing can be done and well done [illegible] and if all the lager beer men in the county should tell us to the contrary we should beg to differ with them.

These 101,241 kegs of lager beer then at 440 glasses to the keg certainly an aggregate of 44,521,200 glasses of beer, which Milwaukee furnished last year for the people to drink.

If what a pond or lake or ocean would it make? A glass the same as we are speaking of is supposed to contain a pint beer measure. It does not hold quite but very near. There are 280 cubic inches in a beer gallon; in a pint there would be thirty five cubic inches. We drop the fraction for the sake of convenience.

This sea then of which we were speaking, would contain 1,688,214,800 cubic inches over 900,000 cubic feet. A pretty good sized sea and one that would float a respectable little navy until the sailors drank the beer up from under them.

The retail price of this beer to go back to figures again at five cents a glass would amount to the snug little sum of $2,226,084. The retail is double the sum of $1,013,043 a profit. As it does not require a large outlay to go into the business the profit is a very good one indeed.

There is, of course, a great deal of this beer shipped away from the city but at the same time there is no doubt nearly as much brought in as there is sent away and that brought in is not included in our figures.

Suppose this beer was divided equally among the inhabitants of Milwaukee, men, women and children. There are 85,000 of these people. This would give to each of them as his or her share 524 glasses of beer, which would cost him or her the sum of $26.20. It must not be supposed that each of these people, men, women and children, drank his or her $26.20 worth or 524 glasses. In fact a great many thousands of the 85,000 did not assist in the disposition of a drop of this beer. What a fill there was for those who do drink, and, to speak plainly, what guzzlers our beer drinkers must be. Literally they must swim in their beverage or the beverage swim in them. It is a consolation to know that a great deal of this beer was taken in by strangers who came here to visit us, and whose first cry on arriving is for our favorite beverage—else so much beer would be the death of us.

There is in the city 447 places where beer and liquors are sold. Probably 400 of these sell beer as a specialty, while all the balance sell ale, the statistic of which—so far as the ale is manufactured in this district—are included in the above article. Among these 447 dealers the trade—which we have shown amounts to $2,226,084—is divided. It does not constitute their whole trade, of course, for they have in addition the sales of wines and liquors which although not aggregating so much as the beer and ale trade, perhaps foot up a handsome figure.—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

THE EXCITED MOB THREATEN TO BURN A WOMAN FOR A WITCH.

[From the La Porte (Ind.) Union.]

Our readers will be startled to learn that the famous old woman of Endor has a daughter in La Porte, a spiritual, if not a lineal daughter. Very early on Monday morning the grounds about a certain dwelling on I street in Andrews' Addition presented a scene which made one think of Salem, Mass., as Salem was in the year of grace 1692. A Mrs. D. who domiciles there, is reputed to be a witch, a veritable sorceress, who though not positively known to have ridden through a key hole on a broomstick, is said to have tried her damnable charms with fatal success on one Mrs. R. who tabernacles on a farm a little south of the city. Mrs. R. is afflicted with convulsions and believes Mrs. D. to be the cause of her epilepsy. She has been treated by several medicine men, but without any benefit—except to the doctors. Recently she has been availing herself of the professional services of a man from New Buffalo, who to the double business of healer and preacher adds that of exorcist. This man insists that not long ago Mrs. D. confessed to him that she was the authoress of Mrs. R.'s sufferings, having by her black and diabolical arts bewitched her. He was here visiting his patient at the time mentioned and about gray dawn, or a little after on Monday, went in company with several others as we understand it to the house of Mrs. D. for what precise purpose we are not informed. In the course of the confab Mrs. D. it appears plumply denied that she had ever made any confession to the preacher doctor, and denounced him as a liar. Exactly what followed we don't learn, but in the meantime an excited crowd of probably two hundred gathered about the house, the victim of the sorcery sitting in a buggy in the midst thereof. The New Buffalo gent, who was the ringleader of the rioters, proclaimed from the mob that if Mrs. D. would come out and ask herself he would[illegible] hang her in a tree and evermore. But Mrs. D. not liking the outlook and doubtless thinking that the doctor had already more devilism [illegible] about him than he could properly manage, declined the kind invitation. This did not have the effect to moderate the rising fury of the crowd, and there were threats of burning the incorrigible woman with fire. But just at this nick of time the city marshal and Officer Dan Brown made their appearance and succeeded in dispersing the mob without much difficulty and before the commission of any violence. An effort was made to arrest the New Buffalo mountebank but he had prudently decamped.

A Rebel Label in Nashville and its Treasonable Counsels. Revolution Threatened.—A special dispatch from Nashville, Tenn., July 13, to the Chicago Tribune says:

The Nashville Banner of this morning contains a leader which counsels firmly and armed resistance to the further enforcement of the laws of the State government. It warns the white Republicans that while the negroes will be spared as far as practicable vengeance without mercy will be heaped upon them. There is little doubt that the Ku Klux Democracy have resolved on the forcible overthrow of the State government.

"The meeting of the special session of the Legislature on the 27th inst. to make provisions for the defence of the loyal citizens of the State and for the enforcement of the laws is regarded with most painful anxiety and apprehension. The citizens of many portions of the state are completely at the mercy of the well organized and thoroughly armed Ku Klux force."

Grant on the Pacific Coast.—The Alta says: The Democratic newspapers have sufficiently amused themselves and their readors by circulating a great deal of nonsense about Grant's career in California and his reputed pranks at every obscure burg in the State. To set at rest all disputes as to where General Grant was stationed when he was on this Pacific coast, we make the following extract from his military record, as given in Cullum's Register of Graduates of the Military Academy, which work is conclusive authority: "Served at Benicia, Cal., 1852, and on frontier duty at Columbia Barracks, Oregon, 1852-3, and Fort Humboldt, Cal., 1854; resigned July 31st, 1854."

Says an exchange: We have received a communication which says: "The nigger aint fitt to Voat. he is to ignorant too be trust with the frankshise."

Johnson responded to a toast given him, saying: "I go to England as a Minister of peace. My instructions look to peace. If I am able to carry them out in the spirit in which they are given, peace will result." Johnson said all good men of both nations earnestly desired peace. He also complimented the representation of the Prussian Government as always a consistent friend of the United States, and endeared to all who knew him. Baron Gerolt expressed his gratitude for the kind recognition by Johnson. He reiterated his firm devotion and friendship to the Government and people of America in behalf of himself and his Government. NEW SAW MILL.—Yesterday we visited the new mill of Hayden, Smith & Co at the foot of Clay street and found it in running order and workmen about to commence on the lumber at the rate of about 1 800 feet per hour which is near the present capacity of the mill It is the [design] of this company in addition to the double circular now in operation to put in a single circular and [illegible] which will enable them to turn out about 20 000 feet of lumber per day of ten hours The mill has a firm foundation of stone, with a base wall upon the [illegible] placed, of about ten feet in thickness No [illegible] stick [illegible] touches the ground, the entire structure being [placed] upon the stone foundation. This gives the build[ing] the utmost solidity and durability The engine is of the first class, a 14 inch cylinder with 28 inch stroke The boilers are 32 feet long diameter 38 inches The large fly wheel weighing over 8,200 pounds, runs as true as any wheel in a clock and the whole engine moves with the greatest precision and without the slight[est] perceptible jar. It was made by the Oregon Iron Works of this city and is one of the finest and best engines on the coast Messrs Hayden Smith & Co intend to put into this mill a splendid planing machine which is now on the way from the East Also a lath sawing machine with a capacity of cutting 40 000 laths per day They intend also to start a tub and a pail factory at an early day On the whole these gentlemen have an establishment which is one of the most extensive in the State and perhaps the largest. They have now on hand some two million feet of logs ready for the mill

INCOME TAX—WHO PAYS.—In the 9 counties comprising the Willamette Valley, 1 020 persons and two corporations pay income tax on $2 001 053 In these counties the number of persons paying and the total amount paid in each are as follows In Multnomah 481 persons pay on $1,[illegible] 119 in Marion on $160 [illegible] 100 in Linn, on $73,497, 61 in Clackamas, on $ [illegible] 819 [illegible] in Lane pay on $33 062; in Yamhill [illegible] pay on [illegible]; in [Ben]ton, 38 pay on $25 918 34 in Washing[ton] [illegible] and in Polk county 21 persons pay [illegible] By these figures it will be seen that Multnomah pays three-fourths of the tax by the valley and this city pays all of the million and a half [illegible] $30 000 of which two men in East Portland pay $[illegible] These facts show what proportion of [illegible] in this city There are 17 men [illegible] income exceeds ten thousand dollars, and [illegible] in the aggregate These seven [illegible] the two corporations above alluded to pay [illegible] than the Willamette valley outs[ide] [illegible] county only one man in any other of the [illegible] included in this estimate paying on ver [illegible]

[illegible]—As this is a time when everybody is try[ing to keep] cool and scarcely any experiment by which [one may] be aided in doing so would be amiss, we [illegible] method of keeping ice water [illegible] pitcher Place between two [illegible] will answer) a layer of cotton half an inch in thickness, fasten the ends batting together, forming a circle then sew [illegible] over one end, making a box the shape [illegible] the rim. Place this over an [illegible] of ice water seeing it deep enough [illegible] so as to exclude the air, and the result [illegible] at the length of time his ice will keep [illegible] cold after the ice is melted.

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.
PORTLAND Ogn, July 28 1868
As there are a great many people sick and dying of a disease called Cholera Morbus I will call attention to the Chinese Doctor Hai Having eaten green fruit I was taken very bad with the above disease and lay insensible for four hours, when Dr Jim was called and in 20 minutes after he gave me the first dose of medicine I was easy and asleep. I believe that there is no other doctor on the Pacific coast that could have relieved me as quick as Dr Jim did M G MORGAN

CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,
Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.
Prevents Fever and Ague and Billious Remittent Fever; Fortifies the System against M[iasma] and the evil effects of unwholesome water, invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels,
Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.
REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.
Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache General Debility, Nervousness Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and S[pasms], and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether [inherent] in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME GENIAL and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element no fiery excitant, but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this Tonic and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion Acting as a gentle and painless aperient as well as upon the liver it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs

Persons of feeble habit liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters The [testimony] on this point is conclusive and from both sexes

As a Genuine Tonic HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated In cases of Constitutional Weakness Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age it exercises the electric influence In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them

Last but not least it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day

Pius IX

ELECTION AND REIGN—THE TWENTY-FIVE YEARS [illegible]

[Home correspondence New York Herald.]

On the 16th inst. Pius IX accomplished the twenty second year of his Pontificate. Gregory XVI died on the 1st of June, 1846, at the age of over eighty two years, and on the 14th of June following the conclave met at the Quirinal. It was at first [illegible] the choice of the Cardinals would [illegible] Cardinal Lambruschini, but the [illegible] changed during the night between the 15th and 16th and on the evening of the 17th Cardinal Mastai Ferretti was elected to the Pontifical Chair. The same evening the new Pope, invested with the Pontifical ornaments, received in the Sistine Chapel of the Quirinal what is termed the first obedience or salutation of the Cardinals, in which their eminences still maintain something of their fraternal relationship toward their late brother. The second obedience or act of subjection, including the kissing of his Holiness' feet, took place on the 17th inst., in the Sistine chapel of the Vatican, previous to the grand ceremony of the Pope's exaltation upon the altar of St. Peter. Pius IX has now therefore entered upon the twenty third year of his reign. There are but four others out of the long list of two hundred and fifty eight Popes who have reached a extended a term. These are St. Peter and Adrian I, in the time of Charlemagne; Pius VI and Pius VII. St. Peter alone is supposed to have directed the affairs of the Church during twenty-five years. Pius VI, who completed twenty four years, approached the nearest to the great Apostle. Pius IX, now seventy six years old, has therefore but two more years to reach the term which all before him have hitherto fallen short of. Putting aside a slight swelling in the legs which becomes troublesome at intervals, his Holiness enjoys the best health. He has latterly gone through the most fatiguing services of the church ritual, himself performing the office of the principal officiating priest. From time to time also he takes walks on foot in various quarters of Rome. To all appearance the Holy Father might live for another ten years. A strong superstition prevails in Rome, and has prevailed from a very ancient date, that no Pope will ever reach St. Peter's term of twenty-five years. It is related that in the eleventh century Pope Alexander II questioned Pietro Damien, a very learned doctor on this subject. "Why," said his Holiness, "has no Pope, even when elected while still young and robust, ever sat upon the throne of St. Peter twenty five entire years?" To this, Pierre Damien gravely replied that "the Pope being like the sun, it was good that he should be eclipsed pretty often, in order to attract the eyes of the world." The popular belief has since then been embalmed in bad Latin verses, which I give for the benefit of your learned readers:

Sint licet assumpti juvenes ad pontificatum,
Petri annos potuit nemo videre tamen."

There is, however, one strange exception to the rule in the person of Benoit XIII, of Luna a Spaniard, elected by the cardinals in 1394, after the return of the Popes from Avignon to Rome. This was the most indomitable chief of the famous western schism, which divided the Church in his time. When he withdrew to Peniscola, in Spain, abandoned by all his partisans, once very numerous, he continued, with the two cardinals who alone remained faithful to him, to assert his existence as Pope. No Pontiff, in the plenitude of power at Rome, could have excommunicated or launched bulls with greater vigor than this Pope, in reduced circumstances. Poor Benoit XIII canonized saints up to the day of his death, which occurred in 1424, after he had worn the tiara during thirty years. This, however is a heterodox exception, and is, of course, taken into no account by the Sacred College.

Pius IX has seen eighty four cardinals pass away during his reign. Some of these have been thorns in the side of His Holiness, from their resistance to the reactionary policy of the Jesuits, who now wholly sway the councils of the Sacred College.

His Holiness continues to enjoy good health but some change for the summer is deemed necessary by his medical men. As the air of Castle Gandolfo, where the Pope's summer residence is situated, is not considered very wholesome, Prince Chigi has offered Pio Nono the use of his palace in the purer atmosphere of Ariccia.

Important Letter from Henry Ward Beecher

To the Editors of the Boston Advertiser: I left Brooklyn on Monday July 6, but not before the World had published that I had, on Sunday morning, in a political sermon, come out for Chase for the Presidency, and against Grant; and I have seen the story every day racing through the papers. There is not a word of truth in it. The sermon was not political and it made no allusion either to Grant or to Chase. The application of some of its paragraphs, in either direction, was the work of the reporter of the World, not mine.

I have never been a Chase man. I have for years, as a leader in public affairs, deemed him like his greenbacks, as promising more on the face than they are worth in gold. While the New York Independent was lauding him as a demigod, and the New York Tribune was using his name to obscure the prospects of Grant, I heartily and openly disagreed with both of them, for I thoroughly liked Grant and thoroughly distrusted Chase. He is a splendid man to look upon, but a poor man to lean upon. Ambition lifts some men towards things noble and good, makes them large and generous. Other men's ambition blurs the sharp lines of distinction between right and wrong, and leaves them, in the eagerness of over selfish desires, to become a prey of bad men. I have for years felt that Mr. Chase's ambition was consuming the better elements of his nature.

I have liked Grant from the first. Solid, unpretentious, straightforward, apt to succeed, and not spoiled by success, wise in discerning men skilful in using them, with the rare gift (which Washington had in an eminent degree) of wisdom in getting wisdom from other men's councils—I confidently anticipate that great as his military success has been, he will hereafter be known more favorably for the wisdom of his civil administration.

The sevenfold humiliation and recantations through which Chase was required to go for a Democratic nomination only to see the smiling Seymour looking benignly down upon his lost estate, has no parallel except in the immortal history of Reineke Fuchs. There will now be no third candidate between Grant and Seymour. It will be a fair fight between rugged honesty and plausible craft. HENRY WARD BEECHER

Boston, July 8, 1868

The Oakland (Cal.) Transcript wittily says: "General McClellan sends word from Europe that he will be back in August and will take an active part in the campaign for the Democratic ticket. If his movements are as rapid and decisive as they were on the James, he will be a powerful auxiliary. But the Democracy will require a great many spades."

A POLITE PHRASE.—The Springfield (Mass.) Republican is becoming refined. A merchant of Palmer, Mass., recently decamped, defrauding his creditors out of many thousands of dollars. The Republican speaks of it as "an other moral and financial irregularity." Is not this the essence of refinement and caution?

COAL ON THE PLAINS.—The Cheyenne Leader of June 30th has this item:

In grading the road near Rock creek, a cut was made through a vein of the finest quality of bituminous coal eight feet in thickness. Railroad men say that in a few months all the coal used from Omaha west on this road will be taken from mines on Laramie Plains, instead of being shipped from the East as at present. This coal is said to be far superior in quality to any now used on the road.

FOR GRANT.—We constantly hear of new conversions, in this county to the Union Republican cause. Many who voted the entire Democratic State ticket last Fall have come out and boldly announced their intention of voting for Grant and Colfax. By earnest work we expect to see Solano county carried for the Union Republican ticket by over four hundred majority.—Solano Press.

[illegible] July 14, 1868.

P. D. Moore, Esq.: Sir—The undersigned having witnessed the exhibition of this [illegible] yesterday of your Extinguisher [illegible] it will state that the first experiment of a fire kindled outside of the building east of the rear of the Central Public School House, made of lumber, shavings, staves, tar, &c., was effectually extinguished with one machine in a short time. That the second experiment of a fire in the inside of the house, made by using shavings, kerosene, staves, etc., was also promptly extinguished by the use of one machine in less than three minutes. The third experiment was left to the control of the Fire Department under the direction of the Chief Engineer, and the building was fired inside and outside, and when the fire was well under way the Chief Engineer gave the order to "extinguish" and the fire was effectually put out in about six minutes. A brisk breeze was [illegible] at the time, and we pronounce the experiment [illegible] and satisfactory. We are satisfied that the "EXTINGUISHER" is very [illegible] what it claims, [illegible] the prompt extinguishment of fires in their earlier stages, and being portable, self-acting and always ready at a moment's notice, would, if generally introduced, save much valuable property from destruction, and we regard it as a valuable auxiliary to the Fire Department. They are indispensable in those localities where no steam or other fire engine is [illegible] and we recommend their use generally in dwellings, stores, hotels and public buildings.

ON BOARD THE "ALASKA," Portland, July 13, 1868.

P. D. MOORE, Esq.—Sir: I have just returned from witnessing the operations of your "Extinguisher" or [illegible] Self-Acting Fire Engine, and confess I was both surprised and highly pleased with its success.

I have no doubt whatever of its efficiency and adaptation to putting out fires in their earlier stages, however combustible the materials may be that are burning. Its action on a flame is really magical. They should be in every house of any value or which contains valuable property, as well as on board of vessels. No one can estimate the additional security they give to both life and property. You will please furnish me two of the [illegible] immediately, for the Alaska, and send them to [illegible] in the morning. Yours respectfully,

E. CATHOUN

INSTITUTE.

- CONSULTATION IN ALL CASES, FREE
- CURES GUARANTEED, OR NO PAY REQUIRED
- IN ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED THE UTMOST SECRECY MAINTAINED

The above rules, established by Dr. J. C. Young in 1850, and which have done so much to secure the reputation of this Institute, are still adhered to, affording those in need of medical aid, the certainty of cure and the utmost confidence.

There is nothing of so great importance to the sick as to know where to find a physician whose skill and humanity give assurance of proper and delicate treatment. The Doctor would respectfully call the attention of those of both sexes who are suffering or in trouble to the invariable success that has marked the career of the Institute in the seventeen years of its existence.

It is unnecessary in this connection to enumerate all the complaints treated at the Institute, but the Doctor feels it his duty to call especial attention to that terrible scourge,

SEMINAL WEAKNESS,

That is sapping with its insidiousness the very life of its victims; in the treatment and cure of which the Institute has earned so enviable a reputation.

READ! READ

I am aware that by dwelling upon so unfavorable a subject as the decay of manly vigor through the loss of the vital principle of life, the ignorant may [illegible] but the desire to point out to those who [illegible] the [illegible] and decay, the true cause of their [illegible] great an incentive to be forced into abeyance. [illegible] tended the terrible disease of Seminal W[illegible] one but the practical specialist who devotes [illegible] treatment can tell, but its presence can be [illegible] the most inexperienced by noting the following symptoms: Weakness of the back and limbs [illegible] feelings, loss of muscular power, nervousness, cold feet or hands, accompanied by hot head [illegible] of consumption, short breath, flushings of the face, aversion to society, confusion of the mind; loss of [illegible] nightly emissions, colorless, slight discharges [illegible] least excitement, trembling palpitation of the [illegible] regular appetite, variable temper, etc.

YOUNG MAN, if you experience any of the symptoms enumerated above pause to [illegible] present is the golden moment in which you [illegible] health and happiness. You may feel strong now, [illegible] you have ever practised the vice of self-abuse [illegible] [illegible] you have the seeds of weakness in your system, and their undermining influence will, sooner or later, dash the fair edifice of your strength to the ground, leaving you a helpless, object being. It is not [illegible] disease that declares itself at once. Therein lies its greatest danger; for while the patient is being treated for some affection of the Heart, Lungs, Brain, or Digestive functions, he sinks into a general debility that soon adds him to the list of the victims of the terrible disorder, Seminal Weakness.

See in the best form and languishing steps, the [illegible] victim of the fascinating vice. Mark the course of the destructive complaint in the hollow cheek and dull eye.

Drowsiness is one of the premonitory symptoms; at first it is easily shaken off, but it grows eventually [illegible] great disinclination to pursue his regular [illegible] mind becomes apprehensive, and restless nights [illegible] days of depression.

It is the nature of the complaint to [illegible] changes that leave the poor victim but little hope of recovery. In a single instant it may wither your hopes and blast your honest aspirations.

Marriage is sought by a natural [illegible] This is an error of the first magnitude, for the system unprepared for the exigencies of the [illegible] suddenly fails, and he finds himself in a [illegible] from which there is but the slightest hope of [illegible] Or if the marriage should result in offspring, [illegible] ny distorted, decrepid and degenerate. This is [illegible] ble to both sexes, whether married or single, and [illegible] times of life.

Do not delay if you feel any of the symptoms of this terrible complaint, or if your acts have been such as to lead to them, but by instant application secure to yourself the only hope of health and happiness. The Doctor uses no mercury or other deleterious drugs—cures [illegible] time always guaranteed and full and perfect [illegible] stored.

The afflicted are assured of every confid[illegible]

PERSONS AFFLICTED WITH [illegible] NERMAL.

During the seventeen years since the establishment of the Institute the number of cases of Venereal [illegible] been treated show a record unsurpassed by any [illegible] in the world, and the success that has invariably [illegible] the course of treatment,

Without Mercury or other Delete[illegible] Drugs,

Shows conclusively the use of them to be not [illegible] called for, but actually dangerous, for it is a [illegible] established medical principle that those [illegible] by entering the blood ruin the constitution and [illegible] life.

The Doctor effects a cure in recent [illegible] and finds no difficulty in curing those of long [illegible] without submitting the patient to such treatment [illegible] draw upon him the slightest suspicion, or [illegible] neglect his business, whether in-doors or out [illegible] diet need not be changed. Cures always guaranteed [illegible] pay required.

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES.

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with [illegible] requires medical or surgical assistance, the inquiry [illegible] Where is there a physician competent to [illegible] relief and whose respectable standing in [illegible] commend him to the confidence of the community? [illegible] Doctor understanding how imperatively necessary [illegible] requirements are, feels called upon to introduce [illegible] calling the attention of the afflicted to the fact [illegible] been a Professor of Obstetrics and Female Diseases [illegible] years, and is fully qualified to administer to them both medically and surgically, not in a superficial manner but in a thorough manner as years of study and [illegible] in the hospitals and private families—can make [illegible] them from the hands of the unqualified unscrupulous [illegible] designing. Therefore families can rely upon [illegible] a father. All in affliction can find in him one who [illegible] and sympathize with and befriend them in trouble [illegible] in whose secrecy the utmost confidence can be [illegible] consultation by letter or otherwise, free. Cures [illegible] teed in all weakness and trouble incidental to [illegible] Private apartments are provided, when desired, [illegible] be had all the advantages of unremitted attention [illegible] Doctor and the most skillful and faithful [illegible]

To CORRESPONDENTS.—Persons, either male or female, residing in the interior, are often deterred from consulting the Doctor because they cannot spare the time [illegible] the expense of a visit to the city. To such be [illegible] that a plain statement of the symptoms and [illegible] bearing upon the complaint, will enable [illegible] for them so that they can be cured at home. Pius IX.

HIS ELECTION AND REIGN—THE TRADITIONAL TWENTY-FIVE YEARS RULE.

(Rome correspondence New York Herald.)

On the 16th inst. Pius IX accomplished the twenty second year of his Pontificate. Gregory XVI died on the 1st of June, 1846, at the age of nearly eighty two years, and on the 11th of June following the conclave met at the Quirinal. It appeared at first as if the choice of the Cardinals would fall upon Cardinal Lambruschini, but the aspect of affairs changed during the night between the 15th and 16th, and on the evening of the 16th Cardinal Mastai Ferretti was elected to the Pontifical Chair. The same evening the new Pope, invested with the Pontifical ornaments, received in the Paolina Chapel of the Quirinal what is termed the first obedience or salutation of the Cardinals, in which their eminences still maintain something of their fraternal relationship toward their late brother. The second obedience or act of subjection, including the kissing of his Holiness' feet, took place on the 17th inst., in the Sixtine chapel of the Vatican, previous to the grand ceremony of the Pope's exaltation upon the altar of St. Peter. Pius IX has now, therefore, entered upon the twenty third year of his reign. There are but four others out of the long roll of two hundred and fifty-eight Popes who have reigned or extended a term; these are St. Peter and Adrian I. in the time of Charlemagne, Pius VI and Pius VII. St. Peter alone is supposed to have directed the affairs of the Church during twenty-five years. Pius VI, who completed twenty-four years, approached the nearest to the great Apostle. Pius IX, now seventy six years old, has therefore but two more years to reach the term which all before him have hitherto fallen short of. Putting aside a slight swelling in the legs which becomes troublesome at intervals, his Holiness enjoys the best health. He has latterly gone through the most fatiguing services of the church ritual, himself performing the office of the principal officiating priest. From time to time also he takes walks on foot in various quarters of Rome. To all appearance the Holy Father might live for another ten years. A strong superstition prevails in Rome, and has prevailed from a very ancient date, that no Pope will ever reach St. Peter's term of twenty-five years. It is related that in the eleventh century Pope Alexander II questioned Pierre Damien, a very learned doctor, on this subject, "Why," said his Holiness, "has no Pope, even when elected while still young and robust, ever sat upon the throne of St. Peter twenty five entire years?" To this, Pierre Damien gravely replied that "the Pope being like the sun, it was good that he should be eclipsed pretty often, in order to attract the eyes of the world." The popular belief has since then been embalmed in bad Latin verses, which I give for the benefit of your learned readers:

> "Sint licet assumpti juvenes ad pontificatum,
> Petri annos potuit nemo videre tamen."

There is, however, one strange exception to the rule in the person of Benoit XIII, of Luna, a Spaniard, elected by the cardinals in 1394, after the return of the Popes from Avignon to Rome. This was the most indomitable chief of the famous western schism, which divided the Church in his time. When he withdrew to Peniscola, in Spain, abandoned by all his partisans, once very numerous, he continued, with the two cardinals, who alone remained faithful to him, to assert his existence as Pope. No Pontiff, in the plenitude of power at Rome, could have excommunicated or launched bulls with greater vigor than this Pope, in reduced circumstances. Poor Benoit XIII canonized saints up to the day of his death, which occurred in 1424, after he had worn the tiara during thirty years. This, however, is a heterodox exception, and is, of course, taken into no account by the Sacred College.

Pius IX has seen eighty-four cardinals pass away during his reign. Some of these have been thorns in the side of His Holiness, from their resistance to the reactionary policy of the Jesuits, who now wholly sway the councils of the Sacred College.

His Holiness continues to enjoy good health, but some change for the summer is deemed necessary by his medical men. As the air of Castle Gandolfo, where the Pope's summer residence is situated, is not considered very wholesome, Prince Chigi has offered Pio Nono the use of his palace, in the purer atmosphere of Ariccia.

Important Letter from Henry Ward Beecher

To the Editors of the Boston Advertiser: I left Brooklyn on Monday, July 6, but not before the World had published that I had, on Sunday morning, in a political sermon, come out for Chase for the Presidency, and against Grant; and I have seen the story every day racing through the papers. There is not a word of truth in it. The sermon was not political, and it made no allusion either to Grant or to Chase. The application of any of its paragraphs, in either direction, was the work of the reporter of the World, not mine.

I have never been a Chase man. I have for years, as a leader in public affairs, deemed him, like his greenbacks, as promising more on the face than they are worth in gold. While the New York Independent was lauding him as a demigod, and the New York Tribune was using his name to obscure the prospects of Grant, I heartily and openly disagreed with both of them, for I thoroughly liked Grant and thoroughly distrusted Chase. He is a splendid man to look upon, but a poor man to lean upon. Ambition lifts some men towards things noble and good; makes them large and generous. Other men's ambition blurs the sharp lines of distinction between right and wrong, and leaves them, in the eagerness of over selfish desires, to become a prey of bad men. I have for years felt that Mr. Chase's ambition was consuming the better elements of his nature.

I have liked Grant from the first. Solid, unpretentious, straightforward, apt to succeed, and not spoiled by success, wise in discerning men, skilled in using them, with the rare gift (which Washington had in an eminent degree) of wisdom in getting wisdom from other men's councils—I confidently anticipate that great as his military success has been, he will hereafter be known more favorably for the wisdom of his civil administration.

The seven-fold humiliation and recantations through which Chase was required to go for a Democratic nomination, only to see the smiling Seymour looking benignly down upon his lost estate, has no parallel except in the immortal history of Reinecke Fuchs. There will now be no third candidate between Grant and Seymour. It will be a fair fight between rugged honesty and plausible craft. HENRY WARD BEECHER.

BOSTON, July 8, 1868.

The Oakland (Cal) Transcript wittily says "General McClellan sends word from Europe that he will be back in August, and will take an active part in the campaign for the Democratic ticket. If his movements are as rapid and decisive as they were on the James, he will be a powerful auxiliary. But the Democracy will require a great many spades.

A POLITE PHRASE. The Springfield (Mass.) Republican is becoming refined. A merchant of Palmer, Mass., recently decamped, defrauding his creditors out of many thousands of dollars. The Republican speaks of it as "another moral and financial irregularity." Is not this the essence of refinement and caution?

COAL ON THE PLAINS.—The Cheyenne Leader of June 30th has this item:

In grading the road near Rock creek, a cut was made through a vein of the finest quality of bituminous coal, eight feet in thickness. Railroad men say that in a few months all the coal used from Omaha west on this road will be taken from mines on Laramie Plains, instead of being shipped from the East, as at present. This coal is said to be far superior in quality to that now used on the road.

FOR GRANT.—We constantly hear of new conversions, in this county, to the Union Republican cause. Many who voted the entire Democratic State ticket last Fall, have come out and boldly announced their intention of voting for Grant and Colfax. By earnest work we expect to see Solano county carried for the Union Republican ticket by over four hundred majority.—Solano Press.

FINALE OF THE TAMMANY CONVENTION.—"Horatio, or I do forget myself."
"The same, my lord, and your poor servant ever."—Hamlet.

SOOTHING AND HEALING.—There is no preparation in existence which has such a soothing effect in cases of nervous excitement as

Although the fame of this renowned invigorant rests mainly on its astonishing cures of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint and intestinal disorders, it is equally efficacious in nervous complaints. Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which, as a sex, they are subject. It cheers and lightens the depressed mental powers as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any unpleasant reaction. Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere.

PORTLAND, OREGON, July 14, 1868.

P. D. MOORE, Esq., Sir—

The undersigned having witnessed the exhibition in this city yesterday of your "Extinguisher," or Portable Self Acting Fire Engine, would state that the first experiment of a fire kindled outside of the building erected in the rear of the Central Public School House, made by using shavings, staves, tar, &c., was effectually extinguished with one machine in a short time; that the second experiment of a fire in the inside of the building, made by using shavings, kerosene, staves and dry stuff, was also promptly extinguished by the use of one machine in less than three minutes. The third experiment was left to the control of the Fire Department, under the direction of the Chief Engineer, and the building was fired inside and outside, and when the fire was well under way the Chief Engineer gave the order to "extinguish," and the fire was entirely put out in about six minutes. A brisk wind was blowing at the time, and we pronounce the "[illegible]" a perfect success. We are satisfied that the "EXTINGUISHER" is very valuable for what it claims, viz: the prompt extinguishment of fires in their earlier stages, and being portable, self-acting and always ready at a moment's notice, would, if generally introduced, save much valuable property from destruction, and we regard it as a valuable auxiliary to the Fire Department. They are indispensable in those localities where no steam or other fire engine is in use, and we recommend their use generally in dwellings, stores, hotels, and public buildings.

Very respectfully,
W. H. WEED,
Chief Engineer Portland Fire Department.

ON BOARD THE "ALASKA," Portland, July 13, 1868.

P. D. MOORE, Esq.—Sir: I have just returned from witnessing the operations of your "Extinguisher," or Portable Self-Acting Fire Engine, and confess I was both surprised and highly pleased with its success.

I have no doubt whatever of its efficiency and adaptation to putting out fires in their earlier stages, however combustible the materials may be that are burning. Its action on a flame is really magical. They should be in every house of any value, or which contains valuable property, as well as on board of vessels. No one can estimate the additional security they give to both life and property. You will please furnish me two of the No. 2 size immediately, for the Alaska, as I sail for Honolulu to-morrow morning. Very respectfully,
R. CALHOUN,
Master of schooner "Alaska."

LEFFEL'S AMERICAN DOUBLE TURBINE

WATER  WHEEL!

THESE WHEELS, UNEQUALLED AND UNRIVALLED in the United States or the world, have been fully tested on this coast, many being in use at this date, driving all kinds of machinery, Saw Mills, Flour Mills, Quartz Mills, Woolen Factories, &c., &c.

CAUTION.

To all whom it may concern: I hereby give notice that the so-called "Shipley's Pacific Turbine Water Wheel" is a direct infringement and copy of the "James Leffel's American Double Turbine Water Wheel," and its manufacture and use is hereby prohibited. Any person or persons making, using, constructing or vending said Water Wheels make themselves liable to heavy damages and penalties. Parties interested will take notice, for I shall prosecute all such infringements to the utmost extent of the law.

That all may know I mean what I say, and am not playing "bluff," I give the following extract from a legal opinion on this subject from one of the most eminent Patent Attorneys in the United States.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 17, 1868.

"MR. A. MYERS—In accordance with your request, we have examined the patents of Shipley on Water Wheels, and are clearly of the opinion that they both infringe the Leffel's patents. In both, Shipley's Wheels he uses the upper and lower tiers of buckets precisely as Leffel does, and in this he clearly infringes. The fact that Shipley has applied another series of buckets in addition to those used by Leffel, does not relieve him from the consequences of infringement at all. He has no right to use these two tiers of buckets, whether alone or with a third, or any number of tiers added. It is a clear infringement. Respectfully yours,
DODGE & MUNN.

I hereby give notice that I will prosecute every infringement of our Patents, whether it be the maker, user, buyer or seller. Every infringement, whether our claims are taken whole or in part, will be prosecuted.
A. MYERS.

CAUTION.

To all whom it may concern:—One A. Myers is publishing and circulating a statement that my wheel is an infringement on the Leffel wheel, and he will prosecute said infringement to the utmost extent of the law. His statements are not worth a denial. His game is "Bluff," which, if he would only take the case to Court would soon be played out. Don't believe him.

I would be glad to get a case into the United States Court and get a decision. That would forever stop the mouth of Myers and his misrepresentations. The legal opinions of more reputable lawyers than Dodge & Munn and A. Myers have pronounced my patents no infringement on the American Turbine. H. W. SHIPLEY.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases of years standing and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible diseases, destroying maladies, see that they are cured and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and attiring of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequently insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who, with bogus sworn to certificates dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen, etc., became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tenth rate shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory, and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians, in eight cases out of ten, are bogus there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretend patient's letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearny street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily O[illegible] jy24d&ptf

HIRAM SMITH'S Ophthalmic Panacea!

IS WITHOUT DOUBT THE MOST WONDERFUL EYE HEALER that has yet been discovered.

It CURES the most stubborn and tedious cases of CHRONIC INFLAMMATIONS, GRANULATED LIDS, FILMS, &c., as has been sufficiently demonstrated during the few months in which it has been brought into public notice. The proprietor is so fully convinced of its INFALLIBILITY that he WARRANTS A CURE OR REFUNDS THE MONEY. It can do the eye no harm, and a trial of it is therefore without injury or expense to the patient if a cure is not effected.

It has cured cases of FIVE, SIX, NINE, FIFTEEN, and even EIGHTEEN YEARS' standing. Harrisburg, Linn county, Oregon, and its vicinity, to which the following persons will bear witness.

E. B. MOORE,	NATHAEL BELL,
A. L. WALLACE,	G. R. WID,
Mrs. MONTGOMERY,	JOHN MOLLOWAY,
W. D. PORTER,	ROB'T DISEY,

And others in that vicinity.

Persons afflicted with the distressing scourge of diseased eyes are advised to give this remedy a fair trial on the NO CURE, NO PAY and NO INJURY plan.

THE SWAIN TURBINE COMPANY,

Proprietors and Manufacturers of
SWAIN'S PATENT
TURBINE WATER WHEELS!
A. M. SWAIN, AGENT,
North Chelmsford, Mass.

For further information, address—
J. D. SWAIN, Agent,
Butteville, Oregon.

THESE WHEELS ARE MADE OF ALL SIZES; are adapted to all high and low, and are warranted superior to any thing yet invented for the purpose. It received a medal at the great Mechanics' Fair at Lowell, Mass., as equally adapted to the purpose which it serves.

The following testimony will be read with interest by all who have occasion to use water.

LOS GATOS, SANTA CLARA CO., CALIFORNIA,
December 10, 1867.

A. M. SWAIN—Dear Sir: The following tests have been made by us at the date given. Our overshot wheels were iron rim, iron arms, iron shafts, and as good wheels as we have ever seen. Buckets 7ft. long, rim 12 inches deep and 30ft. diameter.

They would not furnish sufficient power to run two runs of machinery on wheel when buckets were filled with water, hence [illegible], 1 run on each overshot wheel. All our tests made by measuring the depth of water in a flume, the distance a floating stick would travel in it per minute. All the flour made is our XXX brand using over 5 bushels of wheat per bbl.

Feby. 1st, 1867—Water 12 inches deep in flume 4ft. wide, running 156ft. per minute, drives one run on overshot wheel and all machinery to make 3 bbls flour per hour. 734 cubic feet per minute.

Feby 7th—Water 6 inches deep, 4ft. wide, running 180ft. per minute, drives 2 runs of stone, on both overshots, all mill machinery to make 5 bbls. flour per hour—1020 cubic feet of water.

Nov 15th, 1867—Water 9 inches deep, 4ft. wide, running 158ft. per minute, drives 1 run on Stevenson Jonval Turbines under [illegible] head to make 3 bbls. flour per hour, and all mill machinery, using 455 cubic feet per minute.

Aug. 13th, 1868—Water 8 inches deep, 4ft. wide, running 132ft. per minute, drives 1 run on Swain wheel under 50ft. head, and all machinery to make 4½ bbls. of flour per hour, using 352 cubic feet of water per minute.

Aug. 20th.—Water 4 inches deep, 4ft. wide, running 132ft. per minute drives 1 run on Swain wheel under 50ft. head and all machinery, except wheat cleaners, to make 3½ flour per hour, making 264 cubic feet of water used per minute.

Nov. 21.—Water 9½ inches deep, 4ft. wide, running 138ft per minute drives 2 runs on Swain wheel under 50ft. head, all mill machinery, except wheat cleaners, making 4 bbls. flour per hour on one stone, and grinding one ton of barley per hour on the other runs, grinding 11,724 lbs of barley in a straight run of less than six hours—using 437 cubic feet of water per minute.

Sept. 27th—Water 7 inches deep, 4ft. wide, running 132ft. per minute drives 1 run on Leffel wheel under 62ft. head, to make 3 bbls. flour per hour, and all mill machinery, except cleaners, making 308 cubic feet of water used.

Your wheel, fully will run 775 to 800 turns per minute, and stand a stone to 200 easily, and even faster if we do. Truly yours,
ROGERS & HARRISON.

LOS GATOS FLOUR MILLS,
SANTA CLARA CO., CALIFORNIA,
April 30th, 1868.

A. M. SWAIN—Dear Sir: We have now been using your 12 inch wheel with bucket 1¼ inches deep, for over one year, in flour mill, under an iron head. We have made many full tests with overshot wheels and with your wheel, using the best overshot ever with partial gate, and with full gate. It will run our full machinery and run 4 runs at full motion with the gate only half open, and we consider it the best economy. We tested it beside the Tyler, Stevenson and Leffel turbine drawing water from the same pipe, and find it superior to them in simplicity of gate fixtures, steady power and great economy of water. After twenty years experience in water wheels, and the expenditure of thousands of dollars on different wheels, we would not take any wheel as a gift, if we could not get the Swain perfect built wheel by paying for it at the highest rates. We consider money paid for perfect work on a water wheel that will last for years, to a manufacturer, the best possible investment.

We have had trouble with the Leffel wheel gate in leaking, breaking, and have had to the gate several times in [illegible] months we have run it, while your gate has never failed to close tight, and has never bothered us for a moment. Truly yours,
ROGERS & HARRISON.

DR. J. C. YOUNG,

Medical and Surgical INSTITUTE.

-  CONSULTATION, IN ALL CASES, FREE.
-  CURES GUARANTEED, OR NO PAY REQUIRED.
-  IN ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED THE UTMOST SECRESY MAINTAINED.

The above rules, established by Dr. J. C. Young in 1850, and which have done so much to secure the reputation of the Institute, are still adhered to, affording those in need of medical aid, the certainty of cure and the utmost confidence.

There is nothing of so great importance to the sick as to know where to find a physician whose skill and humanity give assurance of proper and delicate treatment. The Doctor would respectfully call the attention of those of both sexes who are suffering or in trouble to the invariable success that has marked the career of the Institute in the seventeen years of its existence.

It is unnecessary in this connection to enumerate all the complaints treated at the Institute, but the Doctor feels it his duty to call especial attention to that terrible scourge,

SEMINAL WEAKNESS,

That is sapping with its insidiousness the very life of its victims; in the treatment and cure of which the Institute has earned so enviable a reputation.

READ! READ

I am aware that by dwelling upon so unsavory a subject as the decay of manly vigor through the loss of the vital principle of life, the ignorant may [illegible] but the desire to point out to those who [illegible] guish and decay, the true cause of their [illegible] great an [illegible] to be forced into abeyance. [illegible] and the terrible [illegible] of Seminal W[illegible] one but the practical specialist who devotes his time to [illegible] treatment can tell; but its presence can be [illegible] the most inexperienced by noting the following symptoms: Weakness of the back and limbs; [illegible] feelings, loss of muscular power; nervousness, cold feet or hands, accompanied by hot head; [illegible] of consumption; short breath; flushings of the face; aversion to society; confusion of the mind; loss of [illegible] nightly emissions; colorless; slight discharges upon least excitement; trembling; palpitation of the heart; regular appetite; variable temper, etc.

YOUNG MAN, if you experience any of the above symptoms enumerated above, pause for a [illegible]; present is the golden moment in which you may [illegible] health and happiness. You may feel [illegible] you have ever practiced the vice of self-[illegible] [illegible], you have the seeds of weakness in your system, and their undermining influence will, sooner or later, dash the fair edifice of your strength to the ground, leaving you a helpless, abject [illegible]. [illegible] that declares itself at once. There is [illegible] est danger, for while the patient is being treated for some affection of the Heart, Lungs, Brain, or Digestive [illegible] tions, he sinks into a general debility that soon adds him to the list of the victims of the terrible disorder, Seminal Weakness.

See in the best form and languishing steps, the victim of the [illegible] vice! Mark the [illegible] destructive complaint in the hollow cheek and dull [illegible]

Drowsiness is one of the [illegible] symptoms; first it is easily shaken off, but it grows eventually [illegible] great disinclination to pursue his regular business, [illegible] mind becomes apprehensive, and restless nights [illegible] days of dread [illegible]

It is the nature of the complaint to [illegible] changes that leave the poor victim but little hope of recovery. In a single instant it may wither [illegible] hopes and blast your honest aspi[illegible]

Marriage is sought by a natural [illegible] relief. This is an error of the first magnitude, for the system, unprepared for the exigencies of the [illegible] suddenly fails, and he finds himself in a [illegible] from which there is but the slightest hope of recovery. Or if the marriage should result in offspring, they are puny, distorted, decrepid, and degenerate. This is applicable to both sexes, whether married or single, and in all times of life.

Do not delay if you feel any of the symptoms of this terrible complaint, or if your acts have been such as to lead to them, but by instant application [illegible] the only hope of health and happiness. The Doctor [illegible] mercury or other deleterious drugs—cures, [illegible] time, always guaranteed, and full and [illegible] stored.

The afflicted are assured of every confi[illegible]

PERSONS AFFLICTED WITH [illegible] NEREAL.

During the seventeen years since the est[illegible] the Institute, the number of cases of Ven[illegible] been treated, show a record unequalled by any [illegible] in the world, and the success that has invariably [illegible] the course of treatment.

Without Mercury or other Deleterious Drugs,

Shows conclusively the use of them to be not only called for, but actually dangerous, for it is a [illegible] established medical principle that those [illegible] by entering the blood, rule the constitution and [illegible] life.

The Doctor effects a cure in recent [illegible] and finds no difficulty in curing those of long [illegible] without submitting the patient to such treatment as will draw upon him the slightest suspicion, or oblige him to neglect his business, whether in-doors or [illegible]. Diet need not be changed. Cures always guaranteed, no pay required.

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES.

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with disease, requires medical or surgical assistance, the inquiry [illegible] be, "Where is there a physician competent to [illegible] relief, and whose respectable standing in society will recommend him to the confidence of the community?" [illegible] Doctor, understanding how imperatively necessary [illegible] requirements are, feels called upon to invite [illegible] calling the attention of the afflicted to the fact that he has been a Professor of Obstetrics and Female Diseases for [illegible] ty years, and is fully qualified to administer in all [illegible] both medically and surgically, not in a superficial [illegible] but in as thorough a manner as years of study and [illegible] both in hospitals and private families—can make, to [illegible] them from the hands of the unqualified, unscrupulous and designing. Therefore, families can rely upon him as a father. All in affliction can find in him one who can [illegible] and sympathize with and befriend them in trouble, and in whose secrecy the utmost confidence can be placed. Consultation by letter or otherwise, free. Cures [illegible] teed in all weakness and trouble incidental to [illegible]. Private apartments are provided, when desired, where [illegible] be had all the advantages of unremitted attention of the Doctor, and the most skillful and and faithful nu[illegible]

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—Persons either male or female residing in the interior, are often deterred from co[illegible] the Doctor because they cannot spare the time, nor [illegible] the expense of a visit to the city. To such he would say that a plain statement of the symptoms and information bearing upon the complaint will enable him to [illegible] the for them and so that they can be cured at home. None need have any false delicacy about writing, no matter what the nature of their complaint, as the communication will be seen by no one except the Doctor, and will be treated with the utmost confidence and either be returned or destroyed.
